

Leadership for Public Managers

Develop your personal leadership philosophy

---

When: August 3, 2021

Where: Virtual

This class will help you understand how the definition of leadership has evolved over time and how knowledge, skills, and values contribute to leadership style. You will explore the difference between leadership and management. You will also have an opportunity to create your own Individual Leadership Development Plan. This class costs $225.

By the end of this class, you should be able to:

1. Define leadership
2. Express the difference between leadership and management
3. Explain how knowledge, skills, and values contribute to leadership style
4. Develop your Individual Leadership Development Plan

Instructor: Lindsay Bessick (MA, Univ. of Missouri-Columbia) is an organizational development specialist with the City of Madison with more than 15 years of experience in learning and development, organizational change management, and consulting.

Testimonials:

“Why should others follow you? I've never really sat and evaluated myself and my leadership skills in this manner. Was a good experience to do that.”

“This really hit home as we are looking at re-org in our section. Leadership vs. Manager. So many great takeaways and also I have lots to work on for the leadership plan. Doing the assessment is the easy part, the hard part is putting it into a plan. But I think we learned a lot of approaches and ways to think about how to do this.”

“Lindsay's instruction style, sharing of information with incorporation of small, intimate conversation with peers was excellent for this topic.”

Register at: <https://localgovernment.extension.wisc.edu/cpm-public-courses>

UW-MADISON EXTENSION LOCAL GOVERNMENT EDUCATION

